Senate Awaits First Vote On Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate leaders are hoping for a first vote on the civil rights bill late this week.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., floor manager for the House-passed measure, wants a test on some of the 35 amendments on file.

"We've got a sit-in in the Senate by the filibusterers," he said in an interview as the Senate headed into a seventh week of debate. "We should ask them to help conduct business in the proper and responsible manner we want demonstrators to follow."

Humphrey said he expects some voting Friday or Saturday.

There is no sign, though, that the 19 Southern senators opposed to the bill are ready to let up on their verbal protests against it.

For its 35th consecutive session on civil rights, the Senate was called in two hours early and expected to meet into the night, as was the case last week.

Humphrey hinted at round-the-clock sessions last week but made no advance effort to extend hours today. Both Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen have said they don't favor marathon sessions.

So far debate has been at a monotonous pace most days with a cheerful exchange of courtesies between opposing camps.

For example Mississippi's two senators, Democrats John Stennis and James O. Eastland, alone were able to dispose of the Friday and Saturday sessions.

Technically, Stennis held the floor for more than 12 hours Friday simply by getting unanimous consent to yield to 50 other senators for speeches of varying lengths. Quorum calls occupied part of the time.

Eastland used the same tactics for a session of slightly more than five hours Saturday.

Most of Saturday fewer than six senators were on hand as Eastland read a long speech. Leaning at times on a stand on his desk, he talked slowly in tones so soft it was difficult to hear him from the galleries.

World's Fair Traffic Snarl Scheme Bared

NEW YORK (AP)—Plans for civil rights demonstrations on opening day of the World's Fair Wednesday now reportedly include a scheme to tie up most of the city's transportation system—subways, commuter trains and highway travel.

The "secret" plans, reported by newspapers today, could play havoc with travel in a city of eight million swelled by thousands of fair visitors.

President Johnson, scheduled to be an opening-day visitor, may get caught in the transportation snarl, one civil rights leader said.

Tactics reportedly being considered include pulling emergency cabs on fair-bound trains, jamming ticket lines—without buying tickets—at fair entrances, or picketing the gates to dissuade fair visitors from entering.

Queens Dist. Atty. Frank O'Connor prepared to seek a temporary restraining order today against any traffic snafu at the fairgrounds. He invited demonstration leaders to meet with him today to discuss their highway-jam threat.

As the reported demonstration plans grew—from an auto stall-in on access roads to the fair to sit-ins, lie-ins and alike on other major highways, bridges and in tunnels throughout the city—reverberations sounded in Congress. Former President Harry S. Truman said the stall-in would be "damn foolish."

"They'll make a damn sight more enemies than friends by doing a thing like this," said Truman, who arrived in New York Sunday to make a television film about his administration.

Supporters and opponents of the civil rights bill in the Senate agreed that the public harassment could have an adverse effect on chances of passing the legislation.

Navy Ships Form All-Atomic Unit

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the first time, the Navy is about to form all U.S. nuclear-powered surface warships into a single carrier task group, it was learned today.

No other nation, so far as is known, is capable of sending to sea such an all-atomic naval striking force.

The Navy told The Associated Press, in response to questions, that the guided-missile cruiser Long Beach and the frigate Bainbridge will lead for the Mediterranean late this month.

Once in the Mediterranean, these two atomic - propelled warships will join the 85,000-ton carrier Enterprise, already with the U.S. 6th Fleet in these waters.

Together, these three vessels represent a construction cost of nearly $1 billion.

Operating in the relatively restricted Mediterranean probably won't permit a full test of the capabilities of a carrier task force run entirely on atomic power.

These features are great speed over great distances, and very long endurance because nuclear ships are free of refueling vessels and shore bases.

Certain Navy leaders would like to put an all-atomic task group through its paces in the wide expanses of the Pacific or the Indian Ocean.

The 14,200-ton Long Beach is at Portsmouth, Va., and the Bainbridge is at Charleston, S.C.

The Navy said the 7,600-ton Bainbridge and the Enterprise have teamed up before, and so have the Enterprise and the Long Beach, "but never all three together."

The only other U.S. nuclear surface warship under construction is the frigate Truxtun, which is to be launched in October.

The Navy has submitted strong arguments for construction of more atomic warships, but so far the high cost has stood in the way.

The first three American nuclear warships were completed after their costs spiraled. The Enterprise cost $474 million, the Long Beach nearly $330 million and the Bainbridge more than $160 million.

Part of these high prices were attributable to the three ships being the first of their kind under atomic power.

Schoolboy Has Sky Adventure

MILL VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—Danny Nowell will be the center of attention when he tells schoolmates about his weekend adventure, but it's doubtful any will envy him.

Danny, 11, was one of several boys holding restraining ropes on a balloon piloted Saturday by William R. Berry of Concord.

To tighten his grip, Danny wrapped the rope around his wrist. When Berry signaled to cast off, Danny shot skyward with the balloon.

Screams of startled spectators went unheard in the gondola. The balloon rose to 3,000 feet before Berry heard Danny's urgent plea: "Mister please help me."

Berry was horrified to see the boy hanging below. "Hold on. It's all right. We'll get you down," Berry assured him.

He cut off the propane burners sending hot gas into the 70-foot tall balloon and the big bag drifted down and settled in a tree. They had been aloft about 15 minutes and traveled two miles.

Danny was taken to a hospital in San Francisco where he was found to be uninjured except for a sore hand.

Goldwater Top Man In Poll Of GOP Leaders

NEW YORK (AP)—A nationwide poll of Republican county chairmen and other party leaders named former Vice President Richard M. Nixon as the most likely winner of the 1964 GOP presidential nomination.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, however, was far ahead as the personal preference of the 1,606 persons participating.

The survey was the third such poll taken by The Associated Press.

In the survey, which began April 1, correspondents in 50 states and the District of Columbia questioned more than 3,000 county chairmen, vice chairmen, town leaders and other party officials.

There were two parts in the questionnaire—"Who is your personal preference to be the nominee?" and "Whom do you think the convention will nominate?"

Here are the results:

Most Likely to be Nominated
Nixon—526
Goldwater—427
Lodge—189
Scranton—159
Rockefeller—50
Others—19

No opinion expressed—223

Your Personal Preference
Goldwater—722
Nixon—301
Lodge—193
Scranton—191
Rockefeller—84
Others—27

No preference—88

The first Associated Press survey was made last October; the second in December after the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

In the first poll, Goldwater was a runaway. In the December findings—after President Johnson took office—Goldwater's political stock dropped sharply. Goldwater, however, continued to lead the field until Nixon passed him in one part of the April survey.

Some support in the first two polls went to both Henry Cabot Lodge, ambassador to South Viet Nam, and Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania. They received many more votes in the latest survey—this despite the fact that, like Nixon, they have not campaigned in any primary election nor said they are candidates for the nomination.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who is campaigning for the nomination, ran last in October and lost ground in both the December and April polls.

Attempt To Topple Laos Rule Fizzles

Five Nebraska Felons Caught After Escape

PLATTSMOUTH, Neb. (AP)—Five dangerous felons who chipped through a massive prison wall to freedom are back where they started.

A posse tracked them down in a Missouri River game preserve Sunday. They were free less than 20 hours.

The five wriggled through a narrow, six-foot tunnel, scaled a 10-foot fence and disappeared from the state penitentiary at Lincoln Saturday evening.

The convicts, described as extremely dangerous by Maurice Sigler, Nebraska penal complex warden, are Dale D. Carstens of Lincoln, 25, serving life for second-degree murder; Charles E. Dean, 27, of Omaha, serving 20 years for rape; Richard Hubert Ruhr, 38, of Omaha, serving 10 years for manslaughter; Richard Duane Lavender, 23, of Kankakee, Ill., serving one to four years for escape and car theft, and Frank Hancock, 25, of Lincoln, serving five years for burglary with additional terms for escape and auto theft pending.

Dutch Princess To Wed In Rome

PARIS (AP)—Dutch Queen Juliana has washed her hands of the Rome wedding of her daughter, Princess Irene to a long-shot pretender to the throne of Spain.

The family of the bridegroom-to-be, Prince Carlos of Bourbon-Parma, announced in Paris Sunday that the couple would marry in a Roman Catholic ceremony in the Italian capital on April 29.

Complaining that the Dutch royal family was told of the arrangements just before the newspapers got the news, the queen's secretary announced in the Hague that Juliana and Prince Bernhard would not attend.

A spokesman for the Bourbon-Parma family admitted that relations between the two families were severely strained. He blamed the Dutch government.

"We regret that certain political circles which have not succeeded in breaking the engagement have at least managed to lessen the good understanding between the two royal families which separates them for the time being, to their great regret," the spokesman said.

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—Police reported today that 11 persons were killed and another was missing in floods and landslides caused by a week of rain across the country.

Nothing Certain Yet In Railway Labor Mediation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House said today federal mediators have reported to President Johnson "some definite gains" in emergency railroad bargaining talks aimed at averting a nationwide strike.

"However," said White House press secretary George Reedy, "there are some very difficult issues that still remain."

Reedy said one of the mediators told him that the talks have now reached a stage "where to gain an inch is as difficult as it was to gain a foot a week ago."

Reedy said intensive talks will continue, with Johnson maintaining close liaison with the mediators.

Asked whether Johnson was satisfied with the report, made at about 10 p.m., Sunday, Reedy said: "Obviously the only thing that would be satisfactory is a settlement."

Both Sides Commended

He said Johnson commended both sides "for the gains they have made, and urged them to redouble their efforts" to settle the five year long work rules dispute.

Johnson reportedly met with federal mediators and negotiators for both sides Sunday night for a report on the 10-day-old talks, which he hopes will avert a nationwide strike Saturday.

He had called for a report by today but apparently Sunday night's session covered the ground.

Negotiators for five unions and nearly 200 railroads are reported at a stage of practical horse-trading never before achieved in the five-year work rules dispute.

But one source, reflecting the uncertainty of the outcome, said "Nothing is buttoned up until everything is buttoned up."

Failure to reach some sort of agreement may result in a coast-to-coast rail strike at 12:01 a.m. (EST) Saturday.

Federal mediators, working under Johnson's orders, spent the weekend shuttling between union and management representatives in continued intensive efforts to close the gap separating the two sides.

Pressure Kept On

Two private mediators called in by Johnson—Theodore Kheel and George Taylor—were reported pressing hard for the voluntary agreement the President wants.

"They haven't let up for a minute," said a source close to the top. Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz heads three government mediators also engaged in trying to bring the two sides together.

The railroads say current work rules cost them some $600 million a year in unnecessary wages and jobs. The unions contend proposed changes would sharply cut salaries of many of the approximately 200,000 train operating employees and reduce manpower to a point jeopardizing safe operations of the trains.

Asked what he would do if the bargaining fails to produce a voluntary agreement, Johnson said: "I honestly don't know."

There are no provisions remaining in regular federal law under which Johnson could delay a strike beyond the voluntary 15-day postponement he won from both sides April 9.

Nixon Seen As 'Available'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Richard M. Nixon is developing a hard-line position on foreign policy that some politicians think is calculated to attract conservative support for the Republican presidential nomination.

Nixon, the 1960 nominee, has kept himself available for another try at the prize if there is a stalemate at July's San Francisco GOP convention.

Close associates said that the former vice president has not yet decided whether to make the organizational moves that would be interpreted as transferring him from the receptive into the active candidate class.

Volunteers such as Robert H. Finch, who was Nixon's personal campaign manager in 1960, are assuring all who inquire that their man is willing to go if the convention wants him.

Some of the old pros have been trying to assess Nixon sentiment within the GOP ranks. But Nixon's organization still consists of only three secretaries to answer mail.

However, Nixon is talking like a politician eager to inherit a substantial share of conservative support if anything happened to Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., on the way to the nomination.

Coup Collapses After One Day; Opposed By US

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. diplomatic sources said today the right-wing army coup in Laos had collapsed after one day. U.S. opposition to the coup apparently was a major factor.

"The situation is back where it was 36 hours ago," said an American diplomat who had been in contact with the U.S. Embassy in Vientiane, the Laotian capital.

He said reports were still sketchy, but that diplomatic dispatches from Vietnamese said neutralist Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma had been released from house arrest and leaders of the coup had apologized for their attempt to topple the coalition government.

The dispatches said the rebel leaders also apologized to Gen. Phoumi Nosavan, right-wing leader in Laos, who was not linked to the coup.

There was no immediate information on the whereabouts of Souvanna, but he was believed in Vientiane, which was reported calm.

In Bangkok, however, the newspaper Thai Rath said that after the report of the coup's collapse, Vientiane radio repeated Sunday's communiques from the military committee which staged Sunday's predawn coup.

Leonard Unger, U.S. ambassador to Laos, had brought pressure on Gen. Kouprasith Abhay, the anti-Communist career officer who led the army group that overthrew Souvanna's coalition.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who had been visiting South Viet Nam, said before leaving for Washington that the United States disapproved of the coup and feared it might upset the Geneva accord of 1962 which set up a coalition government for Laos.

Started By Generals

Britain and France also came out in opposition to the coup.

The coup took place shortly after Souvanna returned from the Plaine des Jarres, where he had attended a summit meeting with the other leaders of the coalition, Gen. Phoumi and Prince Souphanouvong, leader of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao and half brother of the premier.

Souvanna announced that the talks had failed to bring accord and that he would ask King Savang Vatthana to relieve him as premier.

The strike against Souvanna was launched by Kouprasith and 75 other officers, including 18 generals, who called themselves the "Committee of the National Army."

Ambassador Unger was in Saigon for talks with Rusk. Speeding back to Vientiane, he told Kouprasith the United States is "categorically opposed" to any seizure of power. He urged immediate release of all neutralists "as first step toward restoring the situation back to normal."

Low Water Halts Cargo Of Coal For South Haven

SOUTH HAVEN (AP)—Blocked by low water at the harbor entrance here over the weekend, a freighter carrying coal for the city power plant has moved off without making delivery.

Spokesmen at the U. S. Coast Guard station said the Robert J. Paisley left Sunday night.

The Paisley carried 5,300 tons of coal for South Haven's power plant. It arrived off the harbor early Sunday but backed off and anchored out in the lake when the harbor entrance depth was discovered to be only 15 feet, four feet shy of the ship's minimum requirements.

The vessel was the first large ship of the season to call. Authorities said it arrived before annual dredging by the U. S. Corps of Engineers which clears the channel to depths of 24 feet.

DANNY NOWELL, 12, got his hand caught in a balloon line and was yanked into the air near Mill Valley, Calif. The boy was carried up 3,000 feet before the pilot saw him dangling from the rope and brought the big bag down in a tree after traveling about two miles. Danny was uninjured except for a sore hand. Beck And Bender To Retire From School Board

Arol Beck of Escanaba and Frank Bender Jr., of Soo Hill, members of the Escanaba Area Public Schools board of education, today announced they are not seeking reelection and will retire at the expiration of their terms in June.

Bender is presently the secretary and Beck is vice president of the school board. Both have served as president of the board, Beck in 1959 when the Area High School bond issue was approved and Bender in 1962. Bender was vice president in 1963.

The election at which two trustees will be elected for terms of four years will be held June 8.

Persons who wish to become candidates must file nominating petitions not later than 4 p. m., Saturday, May 9. The petition must be signed by not less than 50 registered electors of the Escanaba Area Public Schools district, which is composed of Escanaba city and the townships of Wells, Ford River and Cornell.

Were Born Here

The nominating petitions are to be filed with the secretary or the board at the office of the superintendent in the Webster Annex.

Beck is an Escanaba native, a graduate of the Chicago Conservatory of Music, and is proprietor of Beck's Western Auto Store. He has served on the school board for two terms, or eight years.

His father, Frank Beck, retired Escanaba businessman, now vacationing in New Mexico, was a member of the Escanaba school board for 12 years.

Bender was born in Escanaba, is a graduate of the public schools, and of the University of Michigan.

Before annexation of Wells and the other two townships to the Escanaba Area district, Bender served on the Wells school board for four years. After organization of the Area school district he was elected to the Area board of education.

Period Of Growth

He continues as a member of the Delta County Intermediate School Board, on which he has served for several years.

Both Bender and Beck were members of the Area school board during a momentous period, when the consolidated district was organized, a new Area High School was constructed, and the educational program expanded and improved.

The Area School district has an enrollment of more than 4,000 now and provisions are being made to accommodate more pupils next fall. Besides construction of the Area High School, there was constructed from Bonifas money and without cost to the taxpayer an addition to the Junior High School and a cafeteria building at Junior High. These were financed from Bonifas fund earnings.

Don Pierce Tells U.P. Engineers About Appraisals

Registered engineers from several communities in the Peninsula learned about the value and methods of appraisal from Don Pierce, of Marquette, at a meeting in Escanaba Saturday.

Pierce is a member of the American Institute of Appraisers and one of the two licensed persons in his profession in the Upper Peninsula. His talk preceded a business session of the Douglass-Houghton Chapter of the Michigan Society of Professional Engineers.

Arrangements for the meeting, which was held at the Bay de Noc Community College, were made by Richard Rinehart, who is a member of the society as well as president of the institution.

Presiding at the business session was Truman Jackson, St. Ignace, Jackson, president of the U.P. chapter of the society, who announced that the next meeting of the group will be on June 27 at Houghton.

Hostess for the members' wives was Mrs. Leonard Della-Moretta, of Escanaba. The meeting was followed by a social hour and dinner at the Log Cabin.

Louis Coppo of Ramsay; Kenneth Dorman, manager of the Upper Michigan Tourist Association, Marquette; Dr. Kenneth Shouldice, administrator of War Memorial Hospital at Sault Ste. Marie; Mrs. Anita Meyland, art activities leader at Marquette and Jean Worth, editor of the Escanaba Daily Press.

Ralph Noble of Michigan Tech presided at the session which elected Milton Johnson to succeed him as president of the U. P. Section and which heard Dr. Russell Kleis of Michigan State University, president of the Michigan

Adult Education Association, urge the U. P. to become more of an entity in itself when its relationships with the Lower Peninsula become difficult because of distances.

Concern Over DPI
Concern was expressed over the State Department of Public Instruction's failure to replace Henry Ponitz, retired, as head of an adult education department in the DPI.

J. Willis Owen of Northern Michigan University told of Mrs. Meyland's great contributions in leadership of art and civic organizations in the Upper Peninsula since she went to Marquette as the bride of recently retired English Professor Gunther Meyland at Northern in 1924. A former school teacher, she has organized literally dozens of organizations to further the arts and crafts, health services and civic activities at Marquette. An artist herself and a china collector, "she cooks and keeps house, too," added her husband in presenting the award to her.

"Aren't all of us dropouts somewhere in our lives?" asked Mrs. Meyland. "I think many of us are brought back because of adult education."

Milton Johnson said there are only a few educators of adults who were in the work when it started in 1947 still active in it and that it continues a need of the area. "The people who express gratitude for its aid shows its importance," he said.

James Myers, registrar of Michigan Tech's Sault Branch presented the award to Dr. Kenneth J. Shouldice. "There's very little going on in the community which this man is not a part," said Myers. "He was the Elks' Sault Man of the Year and he's 'Mr. Hospital' to the Sault and Chippewa County. He headed a new drive to provide a $1.7 million wing on War Memorial Hospital completed last fall, has been well schooled and experienced in hospital administration and is the father of 5 children."

Hospital School

Dr. Shouldice said a hospital's prime responsibility is patient care, but that it also has educational responsibilities in highly technical fields, that 80 per cent of the nation's nurses are trained in hospitals. "If we lack the educational function," said Dr. Shouldice "the patient care program suffers. Despite ourselves, we have quite a bright future in the Upper Peninsula."

Douglas Rappley of Michigan Tech presented the award to Ken Dorman, and explained that Dorman's beard is coming off when U. P. expenditures on promotion of tourism reach $100,000 a year. Dorman corrected him in rebuttal "He likes the thing."

Dorman said that his work in promotion of travel shows him the need for adult education and that the Tourist Association works at it in its Pays To Know Program and other activities. Dorman said its almost as cheap to go overseas as to visit Michigan and that education must be put to work making the area more attractive to visitors.

Job Loss Remembered

Jacob Solin, director of Gogebic Community College, Ironwood, presented the award to Father Louis Coppo of Ramsay, "who besides serving the spiritual needs of his area is very active in economic affairs of Gogebic County, the Upper Peninsula and the State as a member of the Michigan Tourist Council."

Father Coppo, who was born in Baltic in the Copper Country, one of five children of a shift boss in a copper mine, told of the emotional impact of his family when the mine closed. Fortunately his father was transferred to Painesdale. The priest became a lifetime worker for economic betterment of the Peninsula.

"Awards like this," he said "are a shot in the arm for people like Ken Dorman who are doing a wonderful job for people and being badgered by opposition. We've got a great future; it may take a little time to bring out but with men working like those in UPCA and Operation Action and GO-Inc., we have a new attitude of progress."

Abram Snyder of MSU presented the award to Lynn Sandberg, a forest industry leader of great experience in both the U. S. and Canada who is chairman of the Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Problems.

On Way Upward

Sandberg said "The U. P. has bottomed out and on the way up with new opportunities and possibilities. We have received more than we have given in working with people like Father Coppo. The L'Anse area was one of the first settled in North America and by people who had to rely on themselves. One of the big challenges is bringing people back to doing things for themselves. We are going to do it."

James Gooch of MSU said "Jean Worth's influence in his regional writing about the Upper Peninsula is well known, but what may not be so well known is his influence on us other writers. He has an optimistic outlook and it has been very helpful to communications and development."

Dr. Claude Bosworth of NMU said that Walker Cister had "sort of adopted the Upper Peninsula, as co-chairman of Operation Action-U. P. He is an outstanding example of the corporate citizen. We must be service motivated and he is strongly. He believes that all energy is going to be traced to a spiritual world."

Music Festival Rated Success

Escanaba Area Public Schools music department and the City of Escanaba played host to 1,300 students from 17 schools in a highly successful chorus and orchestra festival for Upper Peninsula high school musicians Saturday.

Events at three different sites went off smoothly.

The advanced choral group of the Holy Name High School Girls Glee Club received a first rating at the Upper Peninsula Chorus Festival.

The 74-voice chorus, under the direction of Sister Mary Irmia, O. P., was judged by Dr. James Dunn of Mankato State College, Minn. They sang Andalusia by Lecuona, Clap Yo' Hands, Gershwin and Alleluia, Mozart.

Dr. Carl Kittleson, associate professor of music at Mankato State College, Mankato, Minn., adjudicated the 126-voice Escanaba Area Senior High School Concert choir and awarded it a Division I rating. This is the first year division ratings have been used.

The school performed music from an approved list which was drawn up to meet the standards for a school of a certain size. Escanaba competed in Class A.

Dr. Kittleson commended the choir for its tone quality, diction, technique, balance, interpretation and musical affect and awarded the choir A's in each section. It received a B-plus in intonation.

Ralph Holter, director of strings and orchestra at West High School, Green Bay and director of the Green Bay Symphony, commended the Escanaba Area High School Orchestra for its excellent ensemble work. He awarded the orchestra 6 A's and one B, which resulted in a Division I rating.

The choir and orchestra will present their annual spring program Thursday, April 23 in William W. Oliver Memorial Auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

Views On Peninsula

"The Upper Peninsula is a big town. Any street you can develop will help the attitude and development of all other streets—Marquette and Gogebic Ranges be damned."

The speaker (informally) at a gathering of metropolitan newsmen viewing the big new Empire Mine at Palmer was Robert McLaughlin, vice president, public relations, of McLouth Steel Corp. The company is one of the partners in the Empire Mine.

McLaughlin is eminently qualified to speak on the subject. He is a native of Lake Linden and an alumnus of both the CCC camps of the 1930s and Northern Michigan University when it was Northern Michigan College. He has served with distinction with both the Michigan Conservation Department and the Michigan Tourist Council and he was general chairman of Governor Romney's special citizens committee which studied the Conservation Department in 1963. He is currently a member of the State Conservation Commission.

McLaughlin's thesis that every development in every Upper Peninsula community helps the Upper Peninsula is completely correct, but unfortunately not completely accepted in the Upper Peninsula. The old Upper Peninsula Development Bureau floundered for lack of acceptance of this view.

The Peninsula's prime economic development agencies, the Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Problems, and Operation Action-U.P., are not yet achieving as much as they could for lack of acceptance of this idea.

Lynn Sandberg of L'Anse, the able and devoted chairman of UPCA, expressed his public dismay recently at a statement in an economic study of Chippewa County made by Doman Associates. It suggested that UPCA couldn't advance the economy of the U.P. because it is in no position to allocate industries among its member counties (14) or their communities. "The myth," said Sandberg "is that any organization, public or private, ever finds itself in this fortunate position. Industries are located by investors and their decisions are made on the basis of a variety of factors, over which the communities competing for the industry exercise considerable control."

The Empire Mine is an apt example of economic expansion. The big mine plant was built because economic factors were brought into favorable balance and community factors didn't knock them out. Here the natural resource was the basis for the new industry, but such natural resources exist elsewhere, too, in the Upper Peninsula and they have not been developed yet.

McLaughlin says in effect: What helps one community helps all.

Sandberg says regional work for economic development can bring general benefits.

They're right. The fact that they're both working so hard and effectively to help the Upper Peninsula should help get more acceptance for their plea. Progress is a state of mind as well as a stacking up of profits and putting up of buildings. When the enthusiasm of the people of the Upper Peninsula matches the enormity of its resources things will really start popping.

Folly Insurance

Rep. Everett G. Burkhalter has had his fill of Washington. He's retiring after one term in Congress.

The California Democrat, who is 67 himself, says he is disgusted with the "antiquated" seniority system and complains that "a lot of these old men are living in their dotage . . . (They) have got everything so tied down you can't do anything."

Rep. Burkhalter, who was in public office in California for 20 years before going to Congress, advocates limiting House membership to 16 years (eight terms) and putting an age limit of 70 on candidates.

Like other solutions to the seniority system that have been proposed in the past, Rep. Burkhalter's would probably work more harm than good. Placing an age limit on congressmen might end the stranglehold of old men on committee chairmanships, but it might also deprive the nation of much-needed wisdom and experience.

There are many examples in American history of old men serving their nation long and well. John Quincy Adams, for instance, after his term as president, served in the House of Representatives for 17 years until his death at 81. In the Senate, Theodore F. Green of Rhode Island was a respected member in his 90s.

The list is long and we should not prevent it from growing longer with an arbitrary rule. Some old men in Congress should be retired, perhaps. Some should never have been elected in the first place.

That, however, should be up to the American voters. They cannot be guarded against all of their follies by a piece of legislation.

The Doctor Says:

To Heat Or Not To Heat?

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt.
To heat or not to heat the baby's bottle? This is the question confronting mothers today.

For many years, mothers religiously warmed all bottles to body temperature for fear of chilling the baby's delicate stomach.

Since the baby does not swallow cold milk in a series of large quick gulps, there is little danger of chilling the stomach. The milk is warmed to body temperature before it passes the upper portion of the esophagus.

A few of our more daring baby doctors about four years ago tried not warming the bottles before feeding in a hospital nursery. They even tried it on the premature infants.

They found that the babies loved the cold milk, slept well after a cold feeding and gained weight at the expected rate. There was no difference in the body temperature of the babies before and after feeding. Furthermore, there was no difference in the amount of burping or spitting up.

Mothers who were brave enough to give their babies cold formula right out of the refrigerator—no doubt when grandma wasn't looking—were enthusiastic. It meant less work

Washington Comment

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The band of Republican governors may be small—just 16 in number—but they are showing a lively interest in expansion.

They have just met in Washington in an aggressive mood. Led by the able Gov. Robert Smylie of Idaho, they are eager to carry the fight to their Democratic adversaries, to enlarge GOP statehouse control, to add luster to themselves and their party generally.

Organized for the first time in formal caucus last July at the Governors' Conference in Miami Beach, the Republican governors met in Denver in September. In the Washington session, their third, they plunged into substantive matters.

First off, the governors inspected a chunky memorandum which lays out in hard terms the prospects for adding new governors to their slim roster. Most optimistic forecast suggested in this document is a pickup of six or seven new Democratic statehouses. But it is indicated the gain could be as slender as one.

On the block are 18 Democratic statehouses, 7 Republican. The memorandum conveys the notion that Vermont, now under Democratic Gov. Phillip Hoff, is the best GOP bet for November. Other states rated promising battlegrounds: West Virginia, Washington, Wisconsin, Delaware, Massachusetts and perhaps Illinois.

Another significant caucus memorandum focused on civil rights. Details have not been released. The document acquainted the governors with what their colleagues have done and said on this blistering issue in GOP-controlled states. This information may serve the party in its fall warfare on the statehouse front.

Since the report—seen by this correspondent—touches Republican performance respecting Negro and other minorities in employment, housing and public accommodations, some of its data may turn up in GOP senators' arguments on the pending civil rights bill.

Other research papers delve into broad economic and social comparisons among the 50 states. Naturally they stress the most favorable conditions and developments to be found in presently Republican states. Here again, these materials may help fuel up 1964 GOP governorship nominees.

The Republicans seem bent on taking ground some of them feel has too often gone to the Democrats by default in earlier years. But they know they are going uphill.

Grass fires, believed to have been started by children, blackened a large area from the Escanaba airport to Lake Shore Drive yesterday, and caused an estimated damage of $4,500. Destroyed by the fire were a skating shack, a street sander and much valuable timber belonging to the city.

Vernon C. Linderth, member of the Manistique city council was unanimously elected chairman of the Schoolcraft County Board of Supervisors at its reorganization meeting yesterday.

The Misses Elizabeth and Agnes Leiper are leaving today for East Lansing, where they will represent Chapter Z of the PEO Sisterhood at the state convention of that organization.

Two Escanaba men, Pvt. William E. Harwood and Pvt. Gerald Seymour, wounded while serving in Italy, have recuperated and are back in the service.

"Pals Together," a song written by Mrs. Lorraine Greer of Manistique, has been published.

The Mercury, first tanker to arrive at Kipling this year, unloaded 600,000 gallons of cargo today.

Citizens of Escanaba will have an opportunity to express their views on fast or regular time this week when an advisory vote will be taken on change of time.

Miss Katherine Semer has accepted a position as assistant at the Carnegie Library. She succeeds Miss Lillian Hodson, who recently resigned.

Harold Sweitzer has been appointed to the Gladstone city police force, succeeding Earl LaBumbard, who has accepted other employment.

Teachers To Vote On Union

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's bargaining representative election for its 10,000 public school teachers has been set for May 11.

Assuming there is no hitch, the teachers will choose between a comparatively young union, the Detroit Teachers Federation (AFL-CIO), and the Detroit chapter of the traditional National Education Association (NEA).

The bargaining election date was set Thursday at a conference of representatives of the rival groups and School Supt. Samuel M. Brownell.

The election winner will be spokesman for all teachers before the City Board of Education.

Election eligibility is to be restricted to teachers and other school personnel below the rank of supervisors and administrators.

The Detroit Education Association, through President Eugene Staley, indicated it would reserve the right to protest the election result because of the voting eligibility.

The federation, a labor union, excludes supervisory and administrative personnel. The DEA includes them.

The May 11 election follows from an April 8 election in which the teachers voted overwhelmingly in favor of a proposal that they be represented by one organization.

As a result of the vote, with the School Board then agreeing to a voting showdown between the federation and association, the union group called off a strike scheduled for last Wednesday.

The decision was made at a meeting in Prosecutor James G. Fleming's office attended by officials representing city police, the sheriff's department, state police, and the municipal and justice of peace courts.

The officials will invoke a 1956 state law which provides that cars of teen-agers who drink intoxicants can be impounded no less than 15 nor more than 30 days. The move is designed to control spring-time drinking parties during school proms at graduation time.

Scrapped Cars

Hit New High

By CHARLES C. CAIN
AP Business News Writer
DETROIT (AP)—U. S. motorists tossed some 4,681,617 cars—a new high mark—on the scrap heap in 1962.

That was disclosed today in figures released by R. L. Polk & Co., auto industry statisticians.

The number of cars scrapped exceeded the previous high of 4,420,174 set in 1961. It marked the fifth year in U. S. auto history that over four million cars were junked.

Despite the high volume of cars consigned to the junk yard, Polk said auto registration as of Jan. 1, 1963, topped the 70 million mark for the first time in history.

The scrappage rate in 1962 was 8.1 per cent of cars in use at the start of the year.

In fact, Polk said, the 1962 scrappage total exceeded the entire new car registration of 1958—a total of 4,651,002.

The Polk annual survey on car and truck scrappage is regarded in automotive circles as one of the best barometers of auto business. Its figures involve detailed surveys and collections and thus take about a year for compilation.

Truck scrappage for 1962 totaled 720,039, compared with 575,903 in 1961. The peak year for truck scrappage remained 1958 with its 780,513 units.

Scrappage of all vehicles in 1962 passed the five million mark for the second time in automotive history. It was 5,401,656, compared with 5,039,287 in 1959.

Total vehicles in operation Jan. 1, 1963, numbered 70,965,449 compared with 68,359,517 a year earlier.

Scrappage figures mean, in effect, that 67.5 per cent of all new cars registered in 1962; 67.4 per cent of all new truck registrations and 67.5 per cent of total vehicle registration represented replacement business.

The Automobile Manufacturers Association said recently that the average age of cars on U. S. roads is six years, which is the same ratio it has maintained since 1960.

Truck age in 1963 averaged 8.1 years, a slight increase over the 8.0 figure of 1962, the AMA said.

Auto dealers who just compiled the best first quarter sales record in history figured the Polk scrappage report would mean additional business this year, as there is a definite possibility that the scrappage rate will increase.

The unofficial sales total for the first three months of 1964 was 1,843,640 units. It erased the old mark of 1,770,000 which had stood since 1955.

Ann Landers

Jake Hits Her In His Sleep

Dear Ann Landers: Jake and I have been married 12 years. He is a considerate man who loves his children, his home and me. A woman couldn't ask for a better husband. There is only one thing that bothers me. I think I have the answer figured out but I want your opinion before I settle on it.

Jake and I sleep in a big bed—what you might call a king-size. He always has been a restless sleeper, but lately he is more restless than ever. He has hit me a few times in his sleep. The next morning he doesn't remember anything. Last week he almost broke my nose.

I know Jake used to sleep with brother Max when he was a kid and they fought all the time. (They still do.) I think when Jake hits me he is dreaming of his childhood and he thinks he is hitting Max. May I have your opinion? — NOT MAD

Dear Not Mad: After 12 years I would hope your husband doesn't think he is still sleeping with his brother. But dreams often take us back a good many years, and it may well be that Jake is reliving his childhood. You are (to understate it) generous to give him the benefit of the doubt. Jake should be equally generous and buy you twin beds.

Dear Ann Landers: Today two friends dropped by and four women telephoned to ask, "What's new?" The last gal I talked to said, "Liz, you know everything! You're better than the newspaper."

This caused me to stop and take stock of myself. Am I the town Big Mouth? Is this why I have been married 12 years. I get at least five telephone calls a day? I hate to think so, but I'm afraid it's true.

I love people. I'm not vicious and I wouldn't call myself a gossip, but I just can't seem to keep news to myself. If I know something I have to tell it.

At the moment I dislike myself intensely for talking so much. Will you please discuss this in your column and express your views? — WHAT'S NEW?

Dear What's: No one sees himself as a vicious gossip but by your own admission, you are a central clearing house for information. You do it because it gives you a feeling of importance.

I've said it before but I'll say it again—perhaps you will recognize yourself somewhere between the lines. Brilliant people talk about ideas. Ordinary people talk about things. Small people talk about other people.

Dear Ann Landers: Almost a year ago I made a $5 bet with one of my best friends. She said your column was on the level and that people really do have all those problems.

I said either you make up those letters or the people who write to you make them up because such things just don't happen.

To prove my point, I bet my friend $5 that I could make up ten letters and that you would fall for at least one. I knocked my brains out composing letters I thought would make great reading.

Well you didn't tumble for a single letter and now I have to pay the $5. Please tell me how you spot the phonies. — POORER BUT WISER

Dear Wisen: Phony letters are like phony people. They have an insincere quality—contrived and unnatural.

Phony letters are overwritten, much as phony people overdo and overact.

A bank teller who handles money all day develops a sixth sense about counterfeit. I can spot a klinker in much the same way. Of course I get fooled now and then but I'll bet it doesn't happen very often.

Ann Landers' frank and informative new book, "Teen-Agers And Sex" ($2.95), is now available at your book store.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Directors List Gains Of The AP

NEW YORK (AP) — Directors of The Associated Press told the membership today that The AP is "in the healthiest condition in its history."

The directors' annual report, noting a gain of 814 members and subscribers in the past year, was read at the AP annual meeting prior to a luncheon addressed by President Johnson.

Changes have been made in many areas to improve service and increase efficiency of the worldwide news cooperative, the report said.

"A good deal of emphasis was placed on technological advancements, but the management and the board are aware that it is still the cooperative structure of The Associated Press which accounts for some of The AP's greatest successes," the directors said.

Interviews Filmed
They cited as examples the cooperation of Dallas and Alaska newspaper and broadcast members in coverage of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy and the Alaska earthquake.

AP members voted at the meeting to fill seven directorships on the 18-member board and to vote on the application of 16 associate member newspapers for regular membership.

In a special program, filmed interviews with British Foreign Secretary R. A. Butler and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville on world questions were presented.

The diplomats were interviewed by AP correspondent Edy Gilmore in London and by Richard K. O'Malley, AP chief of bureau in Paris.

The program, on the theme of "The Associated Press at Work," included taped reports by Preston Grover, AP bureau chief in Moscow, and Malcolm W. Browne, AP correspondent in Saigon.

Also presented was a film,

"Frontiers of News," showing the best pictures of the year by AU and AP member photographers. It was produced by Willard Van Dyke, a documentary specialist, in cooperation with The AP.

Reviewing AP changes in the past year, the directors said: A major wire revision has provided a double trunk system connecting bureaus and newspapers which receive trunk wire service coast to coast.

Special assignments of both editors and writers have provided greatly increased exclusive enterprise material.

A new concept of photo editing and planning has been inaugurated with emphasis on enterprise.

An AP book division has been established.

AP's computer system—still the only one in the news service field—is now used for type-setting.

A new system of accounting has been installed in consultation with Price Waterhouse & Co.

A direct Teletype line was installed linking Moscow, London and New York.

The board said the AP book, "The Torch Is Passed," a word and picture history of President Kennedy's assassination, has sold 3,612,000 copies.

"This is a tribute to a superb job done by the staff and also to the pulling power of member newspapers, since the book was published and is being sold by many of them," the directors said.

Quake Feat Reviewed

"The Alaska earthquake is the most recent example. When the quake hit Anchorage, it knocked out the office of our member Anchorage Times—no power, no water, no darkroom, no way of publishing for days. Yet the staff went right on working, mainly for The Associated Press."

"Managing editor William Tobin and city editor Bob Knox dug the AP Wirephoto transmitter out of the ruins, lugged it two miles to the only communication lines available. And with pictures the Times couldn't use itself for days, AP had a picture beat of more than three hours, transmitting 10 quake pictures before any opposition sent even one."

The report said other Alaska members cooperated to the fullest, "including station KENT at Anchorage, where the AP Teletype was for days the main link to the outside world of the staff of 45 men who eventually covered the disaster."

"In the tragic sequence of events surrounding the assassination of President Kennedy, member cooperation was outstanding," the report said. "Thanks to the Dallas Times-Herald and the Dallas Morning News, The AP was the only service to carry both great action pictures of the shooting of President Kennedy's alleged assassin."

The directors said Viet Nam coverage by Browne, photographer Horst Faas, and Peter Arnett has been "consistently outstanding."

The report noted that Browne, who addressed the AP meeting last year, won awards from the Overseas Press Club of America and Sigma Delta Chi for his reporting and that his photo of a burning monk won other awards.

The Overseas Press Club also cited Faas for dramatic pictures of the revolt in Saigon and the continuing guerilla warfare.

Wes Gallagher, AP General manager, who introduced the special events at the meeting, said of the staffers in Viet Nam: "Their enthusiasm and carelessness about their personal safety in seeking out stories has filled me with some concern."

"For this reason, when I was in Saigon two weeks ago I arranged to bring each of them out for two months rest, not because they wanted to come out but because I felt that they are taking too many personal risks and might be killed without a new perspective and a little recreation away from this area."

Revenue Up

Gallagher related that on one occasion Faas was with a friendly tribe ambushed in a jungle by the Communist Viet Cong. The tribe was forced to scatter. Faas walked for six days, tying himself to the leading tribesman at night to keep from being lost.

"Finally they reached safety, and Horst's only comment was it was the first time in his life that he ate 16 meals of Spam in a row," Gallagher said.

The directors reported AP financial affairs in good shape despite mounting costs.

"Total revenue in 1963 was

Future Bright If Newspapers Boost Budgets

WASHINGTON (AP)—A panel of publishers said the future of their industry is bright—if the newspapers speed automation, increase salaries, and turn out a better product.

"In spite of all the acquisitions and mergers that have been taking place, metropolitan newspapers are not in trouble or in any danger of passing from the scene in the future," reported Otis Chandler, publisher of the Los Angeles Times.

He addressed 500 members of the American Society of Newspaper Editors in a panel discussion of the outlook for the newspaper press. Another speaker, Nelson Poynter, publisher of the St. Petersburg (Fla.) Times, was equally optimistic on the outlook for middle-sized dailies.

"I think the future of newspapers is going to be just wonderful," Poynter said.

"We are going to have to increase our editorial budgets, and we can do this by reducing our costs of production and distribution."

"If we put out good newspapers, we will have no trouble attracting the bright young people the business needs—provided we pay them better."

Poynter said capable and intelligent young men and women "want to be identified with courageous newspapers, those which have no hesitation about going in the opposite direction to the power structure around them."

Very few newspapers spend as much as 10 per cent of their gross income on the editorial side of their product, Poynter said, adding: "I think we ought at least to double that."

Chandler said newspapers must invest in improvements, both mechanical and editorial, before they are actually forced to do so by competing media. The newspapers, he said, must intensify their competition in the open market for talent.

"We have got to pay substantially—and I mean substantially—better salaries," he said. "The newspapers cannot afford to say they cannot hire the best talent available."

Chandler laid great stress on

$44,030,275, compared with $42,451,846 in 1962," the report said. "Fixed assets purchased in 1963 totaled $533,721,21, all paid out of funds of the Corporation."

the necessity of publishing papers that relate themselves to the needs and desires of their community, that the news and its meaning in depth, and exert a community leadership. If they do not, he said, the large metropolitan paper "does face a serious threat."

PRACTICAL PSYCHIC

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Since the dates all coincide, a local firm reissued 1963 calendars for 1964, complete with an early 20th Century pinup girl. Some changes have been made, however. The notation for Jan. 3, for instance, points out that on this date 51 years hence Alaska will become the 50th state in the Union.

Sick Communist Party Of U.S.A. Seeks Comeback

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

The Communist party of the United States dreams of a comeback for its desperately sick organization.

Gus Hall, current leader of a few thousand leftovers from the once-famous organization, appears to hope his party can zero in on two aspects of American life: youthful restlessness and the civil rights uproar.

Hall is believed planning a convention this summer, possibly in Chicago, to form a Marxist youth group—avoiding the label "Communist." The party, old and tired and plagued by defections, is desperate for young blood.

Recruits Wanted

Since 1961, often using a discreet form of academic black-

Poetic Burglar Back In Prison

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Nighthawk, a burglar with a literary bent is now back where his poetic fancy first took wing—Connecticut State Prison.

Frederick Siebold, 27, a slim six-footer who walked into a police stakeout Feb. 20, was sentenced Friday to a 5- to 19-year term in State Prison. He had been convicted on 12 counts of burglary.

For police, the capture ended weeks of frustration as Nighthawk, as he signed the mocking verses he left behind, pulled one burglary after another in downtown New Haven.

After Siebold had been caught, he told a reporter he developed his literary style during an earlier stretch in State Prison. In four years, Siebold said, he had worked up from sportswriter to editor of the prison paper.

His poetic output this winter consisted of doggerel such as this, left in an office he ransacked a few nights before his arrest:

"Sorry to leave such a mess; it's really not fair to thee; but just as unfair have you been; to leave not a shilling for me."

None of Siebold's robberies netted much more than $30, police said. The 12th job, his last, involved $4.

Asked why he left his notes, he replied: "Vainglorious."

mail, the party has pushed a campus drive for recruits. Between 1961 and 1963, leading Communists made 91 speeches in 80 educational institutions across the country.

Apparently Hall felt this was successful enough to warrant an attempt to form a "Labor Youth League" under Mortimer Daniel (Danny) Rubin, the party's National Youth chairman.

How do Communist leaders get their student hearings? They send out offers to appear as speakers. If these are refused, they make a campus issue of it, accusing the institution of opposing free speech and academic freedom. It can cause enough fuss to work.

From a speakers' bureau in New York, Communist leaders travel on expense accounts across the country seeking out youthful material.

Racial Front Watched

They get student audiences. Many attend out of curiosity, many to jeer. Possibly the party picks up some recruits in the process.

Another rescue attempt lies in a civil rights drive. Communists try to infiltrate organizations, take part in demonstrations, use eruptions of violence, claim credit for supporting the Negro cause and where possible publicize violence as the result of "white terror."

"The civil rights front is that on which the main battles are being fought today," says Hall, a tough, bulky former lumberjack who has spent 30 of his 53 years in prisons or under indictment. "It must at all times receive our top attention."

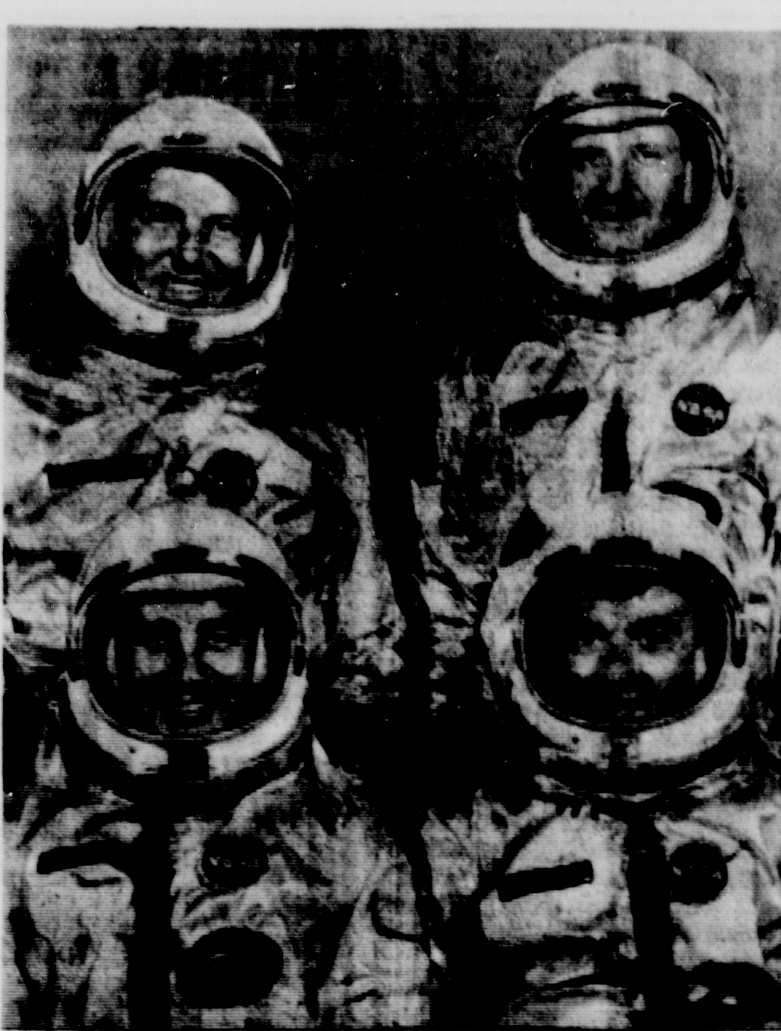

Polio Immunity Given In Detroit To 2.6 Million

DETROIT (AP)—By ones and twos, and often entire families with several children, the huge tri-county metropolitan area sought polio immunity Sunday.

An officially estimated 2.6 million persons flocked to schools and other institutions to eat the sugar cube vaccine which the medical profession says can ward off polio.

Some distributing centers ran out of supplies, so great was the demand.

A second dose is scheduled for June 14 in the Wayne-Oakland-Macomb County program.

State Forests Plan Cuttings

LANSING — Forest stand improvements have been approved by the Conservation Department to boost timber production and upgrade living conditions for wildlife in six Upper Peninsula state forests.

Thinnings and other management practices have been scheduled for nearly 1,240 acres, including some 400 acres where work has already been completed.

Cost of the current projects will total about $9,300, with most of this going to local labor in wages.

The present program takes in Baraga, Lake Superior, Mackinac, Menominee, Michigan, and Sturgeon River state forests.

Improvements in hardwood stands include the removal of non-merchantable and older trees which are holding back the growth and reproduction of future commercial cutting stock.

For the most part, areas selected for this type of thinning work are near deer yards. A major share of the already-

Some Persons Born To Be Fat

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — "Some people may be born to be fat," a Virginia physician says.

Experiments with fat rats and plump mice seem to bear out this theory, Dr. William Parson, chairman of internal medicine at the University of Virginia Medical School, said Thursday.

The tests indicate that some of the rodents grow fat as a result of abnormality in the control center of their brains. Parson told physicians attending a postgraduate course sponsored by the Alton Ochsner Medical Foundation.

Parson said other rats became obese because of an abnormality in their fatty tissues.

"We've always assumed that people who are obese eat to gratify their emotional cravings," he continued. "But our experiments indicate that although there may be this compulsion to eat, the compulsion is secondary to the abnormality in the fatty tissues."

"More than half the fat people we see eat only one big meal a day," he said. "As a result, they become fatter — just like the experimental rats."

He said the whole problem of obesity often proves frustrating to doctors, particularly because "you see people keep dieting and dieting and yet going back to overweight."

"You can't help but wonder if perhaps it may be due to a complex metabolic abnormality we don't understand. After carrying on these animal experiments, we aren't so cocky about the obesity problem anymore."

Managers Robbed Of $12,005 At Night Depository

PONTIAC (AP)—Two managers of a Bloomfield Township drive-in theater reported Sunday they were robbed of $12,005 by two gunmen who fled through suburban fields in pre-dawn darkness.

Manager Jack Beeman, 31, of Drayton Plains, and James Brennan, 29, theater concessions manager, said the gunmen accosted them as they were about to put the money into a night depository at the Miracle Mile branch of the Pontiac State Bank.

Tech's Search For New Ways In Science Told

Dr. J. R. Van Pelt, president of Michigan Tech, told the annual dinner meeting of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce at the Dells Supper Club Saturday night how Tech is helping the economy of the Upper Peninsula and Michigan by developing techniques of use for state resources.

He stressed another benefit of Tech and other institutions of higher learning. "We know that higher education," said Dr. Van Pelt "is useful to the student. We know that it reflects credit on the state and economic advantage to the state.

"But there is another thing as important. We live in a country proud of its democratic traditions. We believe in this concept. It recognizes the dignity of the individual. How are we going to decide whom to elect or decide what we want done? On a basis of knowledge? If higher education has any function in a democracy it is this: That our average ability to make good decisions is greatly improved. This is fundamental. This is why higher education must be preserved and extended."

Dr. Van Pelt said Tech has 3,600 students, but because engineering students take about a sixth more instruction than liberal arts students, this represents a teaching load equivalent to 4,000 students, of whom 2,800 are on the Houghton campus and 800 at Sault Branch.

He urged encouragement of enrollment of students from outside Michigan in state schools, explaining that they pay $600 tuition and fees compared to $300 for state students, but that in addition they bring an average expenditure of $1,500 a year on their living from outside the state to Michigan.

Degree Programs

"Maybe we should invite more in, but it is not popular politically," said Dr. Van Pelt. "Tech, next to the University of Michigan, has the largest percentage of out-of-state students of any Michigan institution. It has 13 master degree programs, 4 doctor degree programs, and 18 bachelor degree programs and is creating an associate degree in mechanical engineering for aides trained in a two year course.

Tech trains its engineering and science students with more time devoted to cultural subjects than the liberal arts schools devote to science, the speaker said.

Listing the duties of higher education as education, public service and research, he reported that Tech is interested in both basic research and applied research. It is studying the ionosphere and its effect on radio transmission and surface radiation in a project so vital to the space program that it is findings are expected to be in use within five years.

Another Tech research project has produced iron pellets to be the purest in the world. The Iron & Steel Institute is spending $65,000 on the study "and they expect to make a profit on it; pure iron in a few years will be essential to some important step in the steel industry."

Chamber Active

There is a great premium for iron pellets for steel making with more than the present 62 to 63 per cent iron content and Tech is currently launching a study paid for by government and industry to develop means of making pellets with 80 per cent iron.

Tech research is seeking new copper discovery methods for Keweenaw by induced polarization survey in drill holes. It is studying why chert (a silicate) in gravel aggregate used in concrete making breaks down under freezing. "When we find the answer the cost of highway will be reduced."

It is using bowmen to shoot thermal couples into the tops of pine trees to study jack pine seed germination controls by temperature in a project to help reforestation. Tech's studies on use of hardwood particles with softwood in pulping have brought investment of $30 million in U.P. paper mills, said Dr. Van Pelt.

"When Michigan makes wise use of research it's investing in our own future; it pays large economic dividends as well as social dividends," said Dr. Van Pelt.

President John Anthony of the Chamber of Commerce (a Tech alumnus) said it has a "wonderful office in Project Pride, a strong program devoted to the City of Escanaba, a strong retailing program, committees operating in various fields of interest and tourism promotion."

Anthony introduced 1st Vice President John Mitchell, 2nd Vice President Forrest Henslee, Treasurer Arne Maki and Directors Gust Asp, Kryn Bloom, Alfred Brandt, Raymond Fish, A. W. Freeman, Emil Gafner, W. J. Lavolette, Russell Lee, Ray McDonough, Mel Oslund and William Van Effen. The dinner was attended by 190 persons.

Briefly Told

Application for a marriage license was made by Gerald Plourde and Beverly Routhaux, both of Escanaba.

Jury for the April Term of Delta County Circuit Court has been excused. Court will reconvene Wednesday, April 22 at 2 p. m.

A special meeting of the Bay de Noc Beagle Club will be held Thursday, April 23, at 8 p. m. at Spar's. Final plans will be made for the club's field trial to be held at the Hyde running grounds May 2 and 3.

Escanaba police have issued traffic court summonses to Eugene L. Rissanen Jr., 1110 Minnesota Ave., Gladstone, improper turn; Hubert R. LaFave, Wilson Rte. 1, speeding; Terry Lee Lindstrom, 1106 S. 16th St., speeding; and Patricia Louise Lefko, Escanaba Rte. 2, failing to stop in the assured clear distance.

An Escanaba youth has admitted to police that he was responsible for the burglary of two homes in the city last winter, officers said today. The youth was 16 years old, a juvenile, at the time he entered the Dr. G. H. Bast residence on Feb. 27 this year and the Clarence Carlson home, 910 2nd Ave. S., on Nov. 10, 1963. At the Bast home $100 in silver dollars and a quantity of ammunition were taken. Only a small part of the property has been recovered.

Public To Hear Dr. Rombouts

Dr. Jack R. Rombouts will speak on "Tomorrow's Teachers" at the Community College on Tuesday evening, April 21. The lecture is for the general public and there will be no admission charge. It should be of particular interest to future teachers, students in Delta County who are planning to go into this field, as well as others interested in the profession.

The program is part of a series offered as a community service by the college and through the cooperation of Northern Michigan University's Public Services Division, and will be held in Room 103 at 7:30 P. M.

Dr. Rombouts, formerly elementary supervisor of the Sault Ste. Marie Public Schools, became deputy superintendent for administration, Department of Public Instruction, Aug. 1, 1961. He is presently on the faculty of Northern Michigan University as principal of John D. Pierce School, Marquette.

He was born 40 years ago in Iron River, and is a graduate of Michigan State University. An honors graduate in 1949, he received his M. A. from M.S.U. in 1950, and his Ed D. in 1959.

A career educator, he has been with the Sault Ste. Marie school system since 1953, first as a supervising principal at the Sault Ste. Marie Junior High School and for the past three years as elementary supervisor for the system.

Prior to 1953 he was employed four years by the Holland, Mich. public schools as a social studies teacher and coach of junior high athletes. He also served for two years as supervising teacher for Hope College.

Richard Rinehart, president of Bay de Noc College and Russell Adams, Northern Michigan University, arranged the program for students entering the teaching profession.

Cat's Four-Day Shipwreck Kelly Trial Is Ended

Grey Face, the cat, is down off the pole.

It was perched on Wednesday of last week until late Saturday noon atop a utility pole bearing a high tension electric wire in the Goulais Addition.

The children in the Don McMillan home, 1616 S. 18th Ave., are happy again. Grey Face is their cat and they were distraught about its inability to climb down the pole after it had run to the top, presumably when chased by a dog.

City public services don't provide cat removal and McMillan, concerned about children's talk of trying to rescue the cat and by threats to shoot it, hired a safety worker with climber equipment who removed Grey Face.

The annual school election will be held June 8, when two trustees will be elected for terms of three years.

Yard Rakings Should Not Be Put Into Street

The cooperation of Escanaba residents in refraining from raking debris from yards into the city streets was asked today by Kenneth Tushak, Escanaba public works superintendent.

The street sweeper cannot pick up the rakings and the leaf picker has difficulty in taking up such a variety of rubbish, Tushak said. Not only that, but as soon as one pile of debris is taken away, another appears, which means expensive repeat visits.

Section 701 of Ordinance 196 prohibits persons from depositing or scattering any rubbish in the city streets.

Yard rakings should be put in boxes and piled with the garbage for the weekly pickup, Tushak advised.

It is hoped that this notice will help to keep the streets clean.

Wickersham Is Winner

Tigers Trip Twins

DETROIT (AP)—Dave Wickersham doesn't know why he is able to beat the powerful Minnesota Twins with such regularity. But as long as he keeps beating them, the tall Detroit righthander doesn't care what his secret is.

Wickersham set the Twins down on four hits as Detroit salvaged the second game of the doubleheader Sunday, 3-1. He became the first Tiger pitcher to complete a game this season.

The Twins blasted 18 hits, including a pair of two-run homers by Harmon Killebrew, in racing to a 12-3 triumph in the opener.

Wickersham's victory was his eighth in 11 decisions against Minnesota. Ed Rakow, who came to the Tigers along with Wickersham in the trade with Kansas City, has beaten the Twins four times. But no other pitcher on the Detroit staff has recorded more than three victories over them.

George Thomas, who hit a pinch-homer in the first game, played centerfield in the nightcap. He hit another home run in the fifth inning and sent Willie Horton home with a sacrifice fly in the seventh. The other Detroit run scored on a balk by Minnesota starter Jim Roland.

Thomas got his chance to start when Don Demeter was hit on the right ankle by a foul ball in the first game. An X-ray showed there was no bone damage and Demeter should be able to play when the Tigers open their longest road trip of the season in Los Angeles Tuesday night.

Dressen said, however, that he may rest Demeter anyway and play Billy Bruton in the opener.

Bill Freehan reported Sunday with a swollen right hand. He said he banged the hand while sliding into second base Saturday. He thought nothing of it, until it started to swell Saturday night. He may be ready for action Tuesday.

While Dressen got a good look at one pitcher in the second game, he used the first to test his bullpen after the Twins got six hits and three runs off Phil Regan in the first three innings.

Al Koch, Fred Gladding, Fritz Fisher and Ed Rakow all saw action as Camilo Pascual was setting down the Tigers on one hit through the first five innings.

Dick McAuliffe, who got three of the five hits off Pascual, spoiled his shutout with a six-inning home run. Don Wert and Thomas then got back-to-back homers in the eighth for Detroit's final two runs.

Rollins had four hits, and Killebrew and Don Mincher three each in the barrage.

Horton, with a double and a triple, paced Detroit's eight-hit attack in the second game. His triple was a shot off the right-field barrier which bounced half-way back to the infield.

Frank Lary and Dean Chance, the opposing pitchers last Friday, are scheduled to start in Los Angeles Tuesday.

Donna deVarona Queen Of U.S. Gal Swimmers

PITTSBURGH (AP)—If there are any doubts as to whether Donna deVarona is the queen of America's female swimmers, just check the results of the 1964 national AAU Women's Swimming and Diving Championships.

The attractive star of Coach George Haines' powerful Santa Clara, Calif., Swim Club won the 200-yard and 400-yard individual medleys, the 200-yard butterfly and was runner-up by one-tenth of a second in the 100-yard butterfly.

If Miss deVarona is the queen then there are several princesses as can be noted by the fact that during the four-day meet last week American and championships records were set in each of the 14 swimming events. This was the first time American marks were established in all of the events.

A member of the 1960 Olympic team and America's greatest swimming hope in the upcoming Games, Miss deVarona scored 26 points and also was a member of both winning relay teams in this year's meet. She will be 17 years old in the near future. The average age of the approximately 250 entrants was 15½.

Asked why she entered the 200-yard butterfly Sunday night instead of the 200-backstroke, an event in which she had set the record last year, the cheerful Californian said:

"I like to try new events. Besides you can only enter four (excluding relays)."

Miss deVarona's competitors must be very thankful for the four-event rule.

While Donna was churning up the water in the University of Pittsburgh pool, Mrs. Barbara McAlister Talmage of the Dick Smith Swim Gym of Phoenix, Ariz., was doing all sorts of things — and doing them extremely well — in the air. Mrs. Talmage won the platform diving—the first time it has been held indoors—Sunday night to go with her one-meter and three-meter titles.

Other individual winners in Sunday's closing program were Cathy Ferguson of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, 100-yard backstroke, and Terri Stickles of Santa Clara, 250-yard freestyle.

The top five team scores were defending champion Santa Clara, 130½; City of Commerce, Calif., 57; Dick Smith, 46; Riviera Club of Indianapolis, Ind., and Los Angeles A.C., 32 each.

Mrs. Talmage and Sharon Finneran of Santa Clara scored 21 points each.

The University of Michigan Stadium in Ann Arbor can seat 100,100 spectators, more than any other college stadium.

Dodgers Extend Losing Streak To Five In Row

LOS ANGELES (AP)—You almost have to go back to the first Patterson-Liston fight to find a defending champion who got off to a less auspicious start than the Los Angeles Dodgers have this season.

In fact, it's about time someone suggested, a few weeks earlier than usual, that Dodger Manager Walter Alston will be issued a job-hunting license if his club doesn't soon improve its position, which today happens to be 10th.

That means the Dodgers have fallen behind the New York Mets, which is almost as hard as finishing 11th in the Big Ten.

"You mean nobody's written yet that I'm going to be fired?" Alston inquired Sunday after the Dodgers extended their losing streak to five games by blowing a 3-2 decision to the Milwaukee Braves in a dozen innings.

"Some times," Alston said, "you get 11 hits and 11 runs. This time we got 11 hits and two runs. Those things even out over the season."

The two runs to which Alston referred happen to be the only two the Dodgers have scored in their last 26 innings. That's an average of about two-thirds of a run per game.

The Dodgers were shut out the last five innings Friday night and came within an out of suffering a no-hit loss when they were beaten 3-0 by Cincinnati Saturday night.

Jim Maloney held the Dodgers hitless the first six innings Saturday, then had to retire because of a pulled muscle in his side. John Tsitouris took over and didn't give up a hit until Frank Howard dribbled a cheap single past the mound with two out in the Dodger ninth. It was the only hit the Dodgers got and Howard felt obliged to apologize for it later.

U.P. Softball Tournaments Set

MARQUETTE — Upper Peninsula championship tournament sites and dates were selected here by the Upper Peninsula Softball Assn. at its annual spring meeting Sunday.

Crystal Falls was awarded the Class A and Class D tournaments, Iron River the Class B tourney and Houghton-Hancock the Class C meet.

The Class A tourney will be staged Aug. 28-30, the other three will be a week earlier—Aug. 21-23.

Belgian Eyes Repeat Win

BOSTON (AP)—Defender Aurele van den Driessche, the Belgian bookkeeper, expects an easier race in the 68th Boston A.A. Marathon today than he had in his upset victory a year ago.

"I know the course and there is less competition than last year," van den Driessche explained before the scheduled noon departure from suburban Hopkinton.

Exeter Street and the finish line in Boston lies 26 miles, 385 yards away. Temperatures in the upper 40s and clearing skies were forecast.

Van den Driessche's "less opposition" argument raises many an eyebrow in view of a record 396 entries, over 100 more than the previous mark of 287 in 1963. His reply is that more foreigners than usual have stayed away to concentrate on their preparations for the Tokyo Olympics.

Van den Driessche was pushed to a course record 2:18:58 clocking a year ago after 1960 Olympic champion Abebe Bikila did a surprising fold about five miles from the finish. Bikila, a runaway leader most of the way, had to settle for fifth.

Girl Golfer Can't Play

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Aquinas College has been told 20-year-old Sharon Wilder won't be accepted as a team member in its scheduled golf match today with Central Michigan University.

Coach Dick McCormick was told CMU policy prohibits coed participation in a men's intercollegiate athletic event.

"We'd like to have Sharon play for us," said McCormick, "but we'll abide by their ruling."

Mays Socks Sixth Homerun Of Season

By The Associated Press
Willie Mays never sized so much even in his stickball days on the steaming streets of New York.

Right now, Mays is hotter than a hustler in the pool halls of New York.

The San Francisco slugger socked his sixth home run in six games Sunday and drove in three runs for a total of 13 in the Giants' 13-6 romp over Cincinnati. His three hits increased his batting average to .391.

The skyrocketing start is the best for the 32-year-old center fielder since he joined the Giants in 1951, the year he also started playing stickball with the kids in Harlem.

"I've had higher batting averages early in the season, but nothing all around like this," Mays said after the game.

"I can't explain it. I'm not even going to try. I'm just happy I'm playing the way I'm playing."

Mays, in fact, has a better record than the Los Angeles Dodgers as a team. The world champions have hit four homers and have scored 13 runs in compiling their worst start since arriving in Los Angeles in 1958.

The Dodgers dropped their fifth straight game Sunday, losing 3-2 to Milwaukee in 12 innings. Elsewhere in the league the New York Mets stopped Pittsburgh 6-0 for their first victory after four defeats, Philadelphia trounced Chicago 8-1 behind the hitting of rookie at Richie Allen and St. Louis whipped Houston 6-1 as Bob Gibson hurled a four-hitter.

In the American League, the New York Yankees won their first game, getting by previously undefeated Baltimore 5-3. Chicago blanked Boston 6-0. Kansas City defeated Washington 5-1 for its first triumph in a game cut to six innings by rain and Minnesota and Detroit split a doubleheader, the Twins winning the first 12-3 and losing the second 3-1.

Rain knocked out the second game between Kansas City and Washington and the Los Angeles - Cleveland doubleheader.

Mays smashed his latest homer in the eighth inning against the Reds. His two-run single in the Giants' nine-run sixth helped put the game beyond Cincinnati's reach. He led off the inning with a walk.

The Dodgers, who haven't won since Sandy Koufax beat St. Louis in the opener, lost when Felipe Alou singled and Ed Mathews doubled him home in the 12th. Don Drysdale pitched perfect ball until the sixth and kept the Braves hitless through 6 1-3 innings. At that point Hank Aaron ignited a two-run rally with a double.

Los Angeles, now in the cellar, has scored only two runs in the last 23 innings.

Allen Gets Fast Rookie Of Year Start For Phils

CHICAGO (AP)—Heralded youngsters seldom live up to their great expectations in the major leagues but Richie Allen of the Philadelphia Phils is off and running toward National League Rookie-of-the-Year honors.

Allen, a 22-year-old third baseman whose 5-foot-11 frame packs 185 pounds — with 44-inch shoulders and a 28-inch waist—hammered two home runs and a single to lead the first-place Phillies to an 8-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs Sunday.

Almost a unanimous choice in pre-season polls to be the league's top rookie, Allen has a .429 average with three home runs, seven runs-batted-in and 19 total bases.

"He's something, he's really something," said Manager Gene Mauch after the game. "He hardly strides at all in the batters' box. His hands are so fast it's unbelievable. And he can hit them to any field."

Mauch tried to compare Allen to some great hitters and couldn't come up with an answer.

"He's all alone. He gets his hands into the ball like Ted Williams did but that's as close as I can come to his style."

"He's a pleasant mixture of man and kid," continued Mauch. "There's enough man in him to know what he's doing and enough kid in him so that he's half-eyed about being in the major leagues."

And how does Allen, the Wampum, Pa., phenomenon react? "I never tried to copy anyone's style. My older brother always told me to swing like Dick Allen. All the publicity this spring didn't bother me. I just figured the sportswriters had to have something to write about. When the season started I just forgot all about it."

"If anything, I'd say I'm not a spring hitter but rather a late starter. It's great to get off to a good start. I'll just keep swinging and see what happens."

Perkins keeps Junior Crown

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP)—Eddie Perkins, world junior welterweight champ from Chicago, can start enjoying this Caribbean resort today now that he has successfully defended his crown.

Perkins had been busy preparing for his fight with Bunny Grant, the British Empire lightweight champ. His unanimous decision over the young Jamaican Saturday night was a study in fine conditioning.

The 27-year-old champ, suffered a badly cut eye but still closed with a strong surge, sweeping the last four rounds. He held a wide margin on the cards of the two judges and referee Willie Pep, the former featherweight champ.

It was Perkins' second defense of the year and ran his career record to 31-9-1. Grant, hometown favorite with the 25,000 fans who watched the bout at the outdoor National Stadium, lost his sixth start in 48 fights.

Sports In Brief

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Lions have named former defensive end Gene Cronin as a player talent scout. Cronin, 30, is an eight year veteran of the National Football League. He was a Lions' draft choice in 1956 and played with Detroit four seasons before being sold to the Dallas Cowboys in 1960.

Bill Spencer Champ At 13

PINE MOUNTAIN, Ga. (AP)—Billy Spencer, a world champion at the age of 13, paced a U.S. water ski team victory at Pine Mountain.

The now 14-year-old youth from Sarasota, Fla., won the individual title in the United States vs. The World Tournament Sunday as U.S. skiers defeated foreign challengers, 22-726 points to 19,632 points. Both Spencer and the U.S. team repeated their triumphs at last year's world championship in Vichy, France.

250-POUND BROADBILL

At Least Four Starters Set For Kentucky Derby

By The Associated Press
The May 2 running of the Kentucky Derby picked up at least four starters from last Saturday's prep on the West and East coasts. And don't sell Calumet short.

Quadrangle won the 1 1/4 miles of the $89,250 Wood Memorial at Aqueduct and is scheduled to head for Churchill Downs at Louisville by Tue. day.

Mr. Brick, defeated one-half length by Quadrangle after a stirring stretch duel, and little Roman Brother, beaten another 1 1/4 lengths while taking third place, also will be given a chance in the 90th running of the blue ribbon classic for 3-year-olds. They're leaving New York by plane Wednesday.

Trainer Lucian Laurin declared Traffic, fourth in the Wood, out of the Derby today and said he wasn't sending any of his other eligibles—National and Repeating.

Will Rad bowed to Real Good Deal by three-quarters of a length in the 1 1/4 miles of the $59,900 California Derby at Golden Gate Fields. But his owners said he would be sent to Kentucky to clash with a field that well may number 15.

Real Good Deal, however, will remain at home.

Meantime, the word went out to watch Calumet, seven times winner of the Derby. Trainer

Jimmy Jones sent out Kentucky Jug in a six-furlong race at Laurel last Saturday. He finished third but observers like the way the son of Alibhai ran.

The Calumet colt just missed after losing ground on the outside and perhaps some because of over-confidence on the part of jockey Eldon Nelson. He'll be tough to beat in Saturday's 1-16 miles of the $25,000-added Chesapeake at Laurel. If he runs as Jones hopes, the famous red and blue silks will be in the Derby starting field. Calumet has another Derby hopeful in Ky. Pioneer. But the son of Nashua has been a disappointment in his latest races.

Meantime, Derby-bound colts already in Kentucky will have two chances to get in their final preparatory licks this week. First there is the 1 1/4 miles of the $25,000-added Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland Thursday and then the seven furlongs of the Stepping Stone Purse Saturday at Churchill Downs.

Northern Dancer, who with Hill Rise has dominated the pre-Derby calculations, will be the Big Horse in the Blue Grass. The Scoundrel, chief hope of the West along with Hill Rise, is the best known of the Stepping Stone probabilities. He worked one mile in 1:38 over the Downs track last Saturday.

Spartan Hurriers Tough On Chips; Win Two Starts

By The Associated Press
Superior pitching carried Michigan State to a pair of victories over Central Michigan Saturday and pushed the Spartans' baseball record to 12 wins in 15 starts.

Rain postponed Michigan's scheduled doubleheader against Eastern Michigan at Ann Arbor, but MIAA teams and independents got their licks in despite cloudy skies and high winds.

The Spartans' Jack Krasnen outduelled the Chippewas' Doug Vanderwall 1-0 in the opener. State won the nightcap 5-1 behind John Ellwood's four-hitter.

Joe Bosworth fired a one-hitter as Hope blanked Albion 1-0; Calvin shut out Olivet in a twin bill by scores of 8-0 and 3-0; Adrian took a doubleheader from Kalamazoo 7-0 and 2-1; and Hillsdale split a non-league twinbill with Ferris State. The Dales won the opener 7-2 and lost the nightcap 8-6.

Michigan State won the opening at Mount Pleasant on an error by pitcher Vanderwall. Dick Billings' two-run homer wrapped up the nightcap for the Spartans.

Hope's Bosworth turned in the best performance in the MIAA. He fanned 18 and didn't walk a man in the 10-inning affair. Loser Larry Colburn of Albion fanned 12 on a seven-hitter. Hope won it on Clare Van Wierden's two-out, run-scoring double in the 10th.

The victory gave Hope a 2-1 league record, and the upper hand in this year's championship race. Hope and Albion, now 1-2, shared the MIAA crown last year.

Leafs Favored To Retain Cup

TORONTO (AP)—The strong-finishing Toronto Maple Leafs were heavy favorites today to retain the Stanley Cup after blitzing the Detroit Red Wings Saturday night and squaring the final playoff series.

Toronto's 4-2 come-from-behind victory at Detroit evened the best-of-seven series at two games apiece. The fifth game will be played here Tuesday, the sixth at Detroit on Thursday. The seventh—if necessary—will be at Toronto on Saturday.

Coach Punch Imlach used his Leafs like shock troops Saturday as he juggled his lines five times in the opening six minutes of play to throw the Detroit defense off stride. The Leafs dominated play throughout the first period with Detroit having an edge in the second, which ended 2-2.

It was in the third period that the Leafs showed their ability as stretch runners. Andy Bathgate, a late-season acquisition from the New York Rangers, broke loose and put Toronto ahead 3-2 at the 10:55 mark. The Wings then saw ever-dangerous Frank Mahovlich add the Leafs insurance goal at 18:07.
